Why it pays to be a School Lunch Online Supplier

- Our surveys show that more parents would order lunches using an online ordering system
- Increased market coverage resulting in increased sales
- Significant reduction in administration - no menus to distribute, coins to count or orders to tally
- Each morning, you'll receive a consolidated production schedule, with supporting label production, letting you focus on revenue-generating activities such as making great, healthy lunches
- Weekly consolidated payments into your account at the beginning of the following week, no more trips to the bank with bags of coins
- We will work with suppliers and parents to survey needs, enabling you to fine tune menu selection, and hence increasing revenue
